

Directories of Camps

(Note: the title of each directory is a link to the webpage)

Easter Seals Summer Camps

Easter Seals provides summer camps and recreational programs for children and adults of all abilities. These programs are geared solely to people with special needs

Jewish Community Center \(JCC\) Camps

JCC include people of all abilities in its programs. Some JCC camps have support for inclusion. Others are more than willing to admit your child with a 1:1 aide. And some will work with you to include your child without special support. To find a local JCC camp, call your local JCC.

Kids' Camps Directory: Camps for Kids with Autism/Aspergers

A general camp directory, that includes an impressive collection of camps and programs specifically geared to kids on the autism spectrum.

My Summer Camps Directory: Camps for Kids with Autism

This general camp directory includes three pages of camps that are specifically geared to kids with autism spectrum disorders.

OASIS Camp Listings for Kids with Asperger Syndrome

OASIS is a comprehensive website for Asperger Syndrome, and their camp listings are fairly extensive..

Schwablearning Summer Camp Database

Schwablearning is a website dedicated to learning disorders and attention deficit disorder.

Very Special Camps

List several dozen camps around the country that are specifically dedicated to kids on the autism spectrum.

Will Moore's List of Therapy/Respite Camps for Kids

This is a collection of camps compiled and listed by the father of a child with special needs.

YMCA Camps

YMCA camps are not specifically geared to special needs, but most will work hard to find a way to include your child. If you're more interested in day camp than residential camp, contact your local YMCA.