Family Wandering Emergency Plan

Make sure your family has a plan in case of a wandering emergency. Before an emergency happens, sit down together and decide how you will get in contact with each other, where you will go and what you will do in an emergency. Keep a copy of this plan in your emergency supply kit or another safe place where you can access it in the event your child is missing.

Critical Information

Child’s name

Child’s transmitter tracking number (if applicable)

Child’s official diagnosis

Child’s identifying marks, medications and medical needs

Emergency Steps

ALWAYS CALL 911 IMMEDIATELY IF YOUR LOVED ONE IS MISSING FROM YOUR HOME

✓ Clearly state your child’s name.

✓ State that they have a cognitive impairment, provide the diagnosis, state they are endangered and have no sense of danger.

✓ Provide your child’s radio frequency tracking number. (if applicable)

✓ Provide your child’s date of birth, height, weight, and any other unique identifiers such as eyeglasses and braces.

✓ Tell them when you noticed that your child was missing and what clothing he or she was wearing.

✓ Request an AMBER Alert be issued (if your child is a minor) or a Silver Alert be issued (if your child is an adult).

✓ Request that your child’s name and identifying information be immediately entered into the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) Missing Person File.

✓ Search known areas your child would likely be, or attracted to. If you have an emergency point person assigned to contact neighbors, pick up your other children from school, watch your children, etc., alert them while searching known areas your child would likely be. If you have other small children, never leave them unattended.

TIP: Create an emergency point person who can contact neighbors, fax your alert form to local law enforcement, and assist in making arrangements for your other children.

Should your child go missing, make sure this contact has a cell phone, knows what your child is wearing, any identifying features, where you child was last seen, how long your child may have been gone, any medical needs or allergies your child may have, your child’s likes and dislikes and main attractions. Ideally, the emergency contact will be a relative or close friend. Provide your emergency contact with a copy of this plan and ask them to keep it in a safe, accessible place.

TIP: Before an emergency happens, assign at least five (5) willing “search angels” who will commit to searching for your child in the event of an emergency. Make sure they would be immediately available (are typically home) are willing, and know and understand which search location is assigned to them.

TIP: List the main places your child may likely go within the neighborhood, as well as the most dangerous areas nearby, such as ponds, lakes, pools, etc. Search these areas first. If you have assigned “search angels” ahead of time, make sure they know which location is assigned to them. Draw maps of these locations, or physically show the volunteers the location to which they are assigned before an emergency happens.
